Would Overturn Ruling Against Newspapers

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 80 members of the House have introduced a bill to allow two newspapers operating under a joint arrangement to be treated as a single entity under antitrust laws.

Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., one of the sponsors, said the bill would amend the antitrust laws to preserve news and editorial competition. Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, has said he will introduce similar legislation in the Senate.

Edmondson said the Supreme Court's ruling Monday that competing daily papers violate the antitrust laws when they poll profits and use the same advertising departments would stifle competition.

"While our antitrust laws were intended to maintain competition, the application of these laws to the newspaper industry, as exemplified by the Supreme Court's decision in the Tucson newspaper case, will have the opposite result," he told the House.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Well, the King family is back on network television on a regular basis—for awhile anyway—and is as bouncy, smiling and healthy as ever.

ABC's emergency replacement for the extremely short-lived "Turn-On" is a tuneup colorful musical hour designed to soothe the weary, ruffle no feathers and demonstrate the joys of family togetherness.

It is, actually, a very pleasant substitution, far from the current variety vogue that combines jokes, gags, blackouts and sketches and uses an occasional musical interlude like a punctuation mark.

The King, from the four matricarchs with their close harmony through the ranks of children, grandchildren, in-laws and cousins, smile a lot, sing a lot and don't really try many jokes. The sets and costumes are handsome, and the whole thing ought to provide some rest for ABC's censors and charm a large segment of the audience.

They were followed Wednesday night on NBC by a "Music Hall" hour starring Wayne Newton, a vivacious, poised young singer with an excellent tenor voice and an assured style honed smooth on nightclub stages.

The show, gave Tim Conway a chance to shine in a number sketches with guest star Judy Carne. Conway, a facile, funny man, extracted good humor from one sketch in which he played an absent minded Clark Kent who had forgotten his Superman clothes were at the cleaners. He was even funnier playing a girl jockey undergoing her first interview.

Lucie Arnaz, Desi and Lucy's long-legged daughter, was around for a little singing and dancing and did well.

"What's My Line" is winding up its first season as a syndicated panel show in which Arlene Francis is the only panel member who was on the show in its CBS days. It's success in its new form has resulted in pulling another venerable game show "To Tell the Truth" out of mothballs for similar treatment.

Kitty Carlisle and Peggy Cass from the original show will return. Garry Moore, late of "I've Got a Secret" will replace Bud Collyer as host, and Bill Cullen will also be on the panel.

when I can lie in a room for a week without moving," he said. "Then I have these enormous bursts of energy."

He dismisses his own tremendous versatility lightly.

"I don't really do any one job well enough to make a living out of it," he said. "But I feel that if I keep moving nobody will notice that."

"I don't think people give themselves enough credit. They all have undiscovered talents. There are other worlds of all kinds within them if they want to take the trouble to explore them."

"Anyone who hums can create a tune. I think everyone has a hit song in him—or a hit novel."

Two Escapees Captured

WARREN, Ark. (AP) — Authorities this morning captured two escapees from a federal prison in Texas and were searching for another.

State Police said Odus Harman Reed Jr., 23, of Monticello and William E. Colter, 23, of Warren were captured about 10 miles southeast of Warren. Officers said they offered no resistance.

Officers used bloodhounds from Cummins Prison Farm in their search.

The other escapee was identified as Donald Williams. The FBI said the three escaped Sunday from a federal correctional institute at Seagoville, Tex.

Authorities said they exchanged gunfire with the escapees after stopping them at a roadblock at Warren. State Police also exchanged shots with the escapees during a chase on Arkansas 172. Officers said the escapees were in a stolen pickup truck and that the case reached speeds of 120 miles an hour before the truck left the highway.

Psychologist Claims Sirhan Hated Father

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's hatred of his father led him "in a psychotic, insane state of mind" to assassinate Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, says a psychologist.

The killing was for Sirhan a compromise, Dr. Martin Schorr told the jury trying the 24-year-old Jordanian for murder.

"He finds a symbolic replica of his father in the form of Kennedy, kills him and also regains the relationship that stands between him and his most precious possession—his mother's love," the psychologist said Wednesday in his third day as a defense witness.

In her second row seat Sirhan's mother Mary, 56, murmured, "I don't like this."

The jury heard for the first time Sirhan's voice on tape recordings made within a half hour of Kennedy's shooting early June 5 of last year.

Those early moments in the police station—after policemen hustled him away from a distraught, menacing crowd—had been described previously. But

The Southernairs Quartet of Paris, Texas will be at the First Assembly of God Church, 322 N. Main Sunday March 16, at 7 p.m.

Wayne Woodall of Hope is the pianist and others of the quartet are: Wayne Williams, J.W. Rogers, B. Ray Steelman and Mrs. B. Ray Steelman.

There is no admission charge but a free will offering will be received.

the tapes demonstrated more vividly than any testimony how gentle, almost solicitously, Sirhan was treated by police.

He was told several times of his right to remain silent and exercised that right even to the extent of not giving his name or agreeing that the interviewing sergeant was recording his money and property properly.

Sirhan's left leg was bruised in the scuffle to subdue him in the kitchen pantry of the Ambassador Hotel.

"I know you have been checked, but I'm checking you for weapons only," said Sgt. William C. Jordan at one time. "I'll be as gentle as possible, okay? You're clean . . . I get in an area that's uncomfortable, you tell me . . ."

A few minutes later, an officer refused to give Sirhan a cup of hot chocolate and Sirhan kicked the cup from his hand. "That's enough pal," was the comment from Sgt. E.H. Austin. "You're not going to prove nothing that way."

Sirhan, in one of his few responses in the early minutes in the interrogation room, told Austin later "please apologize for me to him and I trust you." Said Austin: "I will."

The prosecution introduced the tape recordings to counter defense contentions that Sirhan was drunk and in a blackout.

It was hours after the arrest that Sirhan was identified—by a brother who came to the police station after seeing a newspaper picture of Kennedy's assassin.

Sirhan's father, Bishara Sirhan, deserted the family soon after they arrived in the United States from Jordan in 1957. There has been testimony that the father beat his wife and children.

McKissick Violent, Ali Was Mild

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Diverse plans for solving racial problems were presented University of Arkansas students Wednesday night by two controversial Negro leaders.

Muhammad Ali, former world heavyweight boxing champion, said non-violence as preached through the Black Muslim religion was the answer to the racial turmoil in America.

But Floyd McKissick, former director of the Congress of Racial Equality, attacked "white racism" and said the answer to Negroes getting their rights is through black power.

A capacity crowd of about 4,700 students, including several hundred Negroes, attended the separate speeches which were sponsored by the student government.

Ali, who won the boxing title as Cassius Clay, was received enthusiastically by the students following his speech. McKissick's remarks appealed more to the Negroes in the audience.

McKissick described American society as sick and deplored the "semantics of racism" which he said insisted on dealing with such terms as "segregation and integration rather than quality." "I ain't never wanted to be white," McKissick said. "American society is the sickest society in the world. This society cannot continue to exist with racism that exists in it." Ali advocated racial separatism, outlined a plan for creating a bill that explained in detail the tenets of his religion.

Ali noted the protest by the Arkansas Senate over his invitation to speak and said American people had been "brain washed" about Muslims by the "white power structure."

Touching briefly on his difficulties with the law, Ali said he had "paid dearly" for his stand against the draft and still faced the prospect of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

"Even so," he said, "I have not burned my draft card, I have not lain down on the Pentagon steps, I have not burned the American flag and I have not left the country to avoid the draft."

What is so bad about Muhammad Ali, he asked, "that's not bad also about Joe Namath, George Hamilton and others?"

The remark brought a loud applause from the students. Ali said Negroes cannot be "equal until we separate whites and blacks." He said he had respect for whites in the South for lynching Negroes who had bothered their women. He then pleaded that Negroes protect

Senators Accept Invitation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Three state senators have accepted an invitation to speak at a symposium at the University of Arkansas Tuesday night on former heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali.

They are Sens. Milt Earnhart of Fort Smith, Jim Caldwell of Rogers and Guy "Mutt" Jones of Gougeon.

Two other senators, Dan Sprick of Little Rock and W.D. Moore Jr. of El Dorado, declined the invitation.

Ali, better known as Cassius Clay, spoke Wednesday night at the symposium sponsored by the Student Government Association of the university.

Earnhart was the sponsor of a resolution adopted by the Senate objecting to Clay's appearance. Jones spoke for the resolution and Caldwell opposed it.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1874.
1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:
1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.
1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.
1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published daily by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
— but both papers suspended in 1922.

1928 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
Hempstead County Review.

1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929 — C.E. Palmer and A.H.
Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Bladder Operation Needs Hospitalization

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I am 74. My doctor says that my bladder has dropped but he isn't worried about it. He says that if I start to dribble urine he will have to put a plate in the bladder. Would I have to go into the hospital for this? Am I too old for such a procedure?

A—You would have to have this operation in a hospital. It is best not to delay this repair work because of the danger that you may develop a chronic bladder infection. Your age, of itself, is not a reason to avoid the operation.

haling or swallowing the dust or fumes. Chronic ex-posure may cause pepleness, headache, skin irritation, thirst and general malaise. The most important item in treatment is a void a n c e of further ex-posure. For symptomatic relief, your husband should consult his doctor.

comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt,

vidual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Lewis Carroll perhaps intended solace to all the world's unwilling school boys and unprepossessing scholars when in "Alice in Wonderland" he parodied
the three Rs. The World
Almanac notes. The Mock Turtle, telling of his studies at school, says that to begin with there's "Reeling and Writhing, of course," and then "the different branches of Arithmetic — Ambli-tion, Distraction, Uglifica-tion and Derision."

"do everything I can to

We offer our most grateful and heartfelt appreciation for more than we could bear.

In "Winning Declarer Play" there is a most interesting chapter on bridge mathematics. Dorothy Hayden points out that you must consider all possibilities, not just one or two, in comparing the chance of success of various plays.

Percy was a mathematician who had just taken up duplicate. He arrived at six no-trump. East won the first trick with the diamond ace and led back a spade. Percy knew that a finesse represented a 50 per cent chance while a 3-3 break in hearts was only a 36 per cent chance. Either would give him his 12th trick so he took the 50 per cent and went down.

Harry wasn't as good a mathematician as Percy, but he made the hand against the same defense. He refused the finesse in spades and ran off all his diamonds and clubs. He made sure he played the clubs last from his own hand. This put West in a squeeze. He had to chuck the king of spades or unguard his jack of hearts.
Harry's play was far better mathematically. He would make his contract against a 3-3 break in hearts or any time the king of spades showed up in the same hand as the long hearts.

Incidentally, our old friend the Unlucky Expert would probably have gone down two tricks. Against him East would cash the diamonds and discard the jack or

789 Killed by Enemy in Only 14 Days

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that 789 American troops were killed in action during the first 14 days of the Viet Cong's 19-day-old spring offensive, an average of 56 battlefield deaths every 24 hours.

The weekly casualty report issued by U.S. Headquarters said 336 Americans died in action during the week of March 2-8, the second week of the current offensive.

This was 117 less than the 453 Americans reported killed during the first week of the offensive. But it was double the average of 170 Americans killed each week this year until the offensive began.

South Vietnamese and enemy casualties also were substantially less than the week before, according to the weekly allied summaries.

The Saigon government said 259 of its men were killed, while the two allied commands reported 4,063 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese battle dead. With 521 government troops and 6,813 of the enemy reported killed the week before, this brought Vietnamese battle dead during the first two weeks of the offensive to 780 government troops and 10,876 of the enemy.

Military analysts, noting the drop in casualties, said that enemy attacks last week declined from the level of the first seven days of the offensive. They said, however, that the Communist command apparently was regrouping and resupplying its units in preparation for a new phase of the offensive.

The U.S. Command also announced 1,694 Americans were wounded last week, compared with 2,593 the previous week. South Vietnamese wounded totaled 1,058, down from 2,072 the week before. Another 27 South Vietnamese were listed as missing in action last week.

The weekly summary raised American casualties in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, to 32,712 killed in action, 206,182 wounded and 1,321 missing or captured. The U.S. Command said at least 461,256 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been killed in those eight years.

Meanwhile, the Viet Cong stepped up its offensive again today.

Entertainer Believes Life is a Wry Joke Taken Too Seriously

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "Life is a marvelously wry joke played on people who take it much too seriously," said Anthony Newley, Britain's multifaceted entertainer.

Rivalled in the range of his talents only by Peter Ustinov, a man he admires, Newley can act, sing, compose music or write, direct and produce films.

He does all those things in his latest, "Can Hieronymus Merkin Ever Forget Mercy Humppe and Find True Happiness?" It is an odd and dreamlike mixture of exotica and erotica, made on the island of Malta in 12 weeks at a cost of $1.25 million, that is likely to be acclaimed by the avant-garde and confuse more solid fans.

"I hope some day to be paid for it," said Tony a bit glumly the other day over a plate of luncheon eggs at the 21 Restaurant.

As is the case of many endowed with comic gifts, Tony's mind flits between moods of gaiety and gloom. Haunted by memories of a childhood spent in bomb-battered wartime England, he feels deeply the rust of this world's touch and the pre-

Shocked WR Accuses Sen. Dodd of Trying to Create New Image

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller Wednesday accused Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., of trying to create a new image of himself by exploiting prison conditions and in particular, Arkansas' prison system.

Dodd, who was censured by the Senate for allegedly diverting campaign contributions and money raised at testimonial dinners to personal use, chairs a Senate subcommittee, which has been holding hearings on problems of juvenile delinquency.

Laird Silent on Mission to Vietnam

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Returning from a week-long tour of Vietnam, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is remaining silent on one of the missions that took him to the war zone and says he has reached no conclusion about a second.

President Nixon sent Laird on his first inspection of South Vietnam since becoming Pentagon chief to study whether American troops strength could be cut back and to check on the intensity and progress of the current enemy offensive.

On his return home Wednesday night, Laird had nothing to say about what he might report to President Nixon about any retaliation the United States might take over the enemy offensive that includes shelling South Vietnamese cities.

He did, however, tell reporters who met him at the Andrews Air Force Base, Md., that he has reached no conclusions on whether the United States can withdraw troops from the war-torn country.

In his brief press conference, Laird declined to make any predictions on just when troop reduction might be possible.

The defense chief said his brief visit to Southeast Asia didn't justify issuing such forecasts.

To Meet With Negro Students

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Dr. David Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, said he would meet with Negro students next Wednesday to discuss their grievances.

Mullins set the date after the Negro students marched across the campus to his office Wednesday. He was in Little Rock but the students contacted him when he returned.

Jonquil Tour Sunday at Washington

Sunday, March 16 will mark the first Washington, Arkansas Annual Jonquil and Daffodil Trail. Historic and beautiful Washington, Arkansas has long been noted for its display of Jonquills and Daffodils in the springtime. The original bulbs were brought to Washington, by early settlers well over 100 years ago. The beauty of these blooming bulbs will be at its peak March 16. Also open to visitors will be the J.M. Garretts on Highway 4.

The Old Tavern, a 1960 reconstruction, will also be a feature of the Jonquil Trail. The Tavern contains many period pieces reflecting its crowded history. Here Sam Houston plotted the liberation of Texas; here James Bowie and Davey Crockett rested on their way to the Alamo; here Federal troops stopped en route to Mexico; and here Albert Pike did much of his writings. Visitors to Washington, rarely miss this popular shrine which also serves as the Tourist Information Headquarters.

An added treat is in store for Jonquil Trail visitors. Guests at the Tavern before the Texas Revolution in 1836 gathered around the fireplace as they surmised what Sam Houston had in mind as he received, in his upstairs room, various types of visitors at all hours both day and night. On Sunday, March 16 a roaring fire will once again fill the fireplace in the kitchen of the Old Tavern in Pioneer, Washington, Arkansas, and each person touring the Tavern will be served a steaming cup of coffee.

Altered Plan for Missile System Seen

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, returning from Vietnam to find the administration still grappling with the hot political problem of missile defense, says he expects President Nixon to press ahead with an altered version of the Sentinel system.

Nixon delayed announcing a decision on the embattled program, originally expected early in the week, until after he conferred today with Laird.

He is now expected to have something to say on the subject at a nationally broadcast news conference at noon Friday, although there is no assurance of a final decision even then.

After stepping from the Air Force jet that brought him home from his week-long trip to Vietnam, Laird said Wednesday night he expected Nixon to make changes in the Sentinel program that was approved by the Johnson administration.

"I didn't think at the time I left we would go forward with the Sentinel as planned," Laird told newsmen at Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland.

Laird, who has indicated support for antiballistic missile defense, said he didn't know exactly what he would say.

Source Says Ray Regrets Guilty Plea

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
James Earl Ray, quoted as wishing now he had elected to stand trial for the Martin Luther King assassination, was joined in his regrets today by the U.S. Justice Department.

A source in the department said the feeling there over Ray's abrupt guilty plea "is one of frustration." The reason: a full-fledged trial, had one been held, might have shed light on questions which have led to widespread suspicion around the country that Ray was only one figure in a conspiracy.

In Nashville, the Nashville Tennessean said in a copyright story that Ray disclosed second thoughts about the guilty plea within hours of his sentencing in Memphis to an agreed 99 years in prison. Ray also has inquired about how he could hire a new attorney, the paper said.

The story said unidentified official sources quoted Ray as saying: "When I went to court Monday I was convinced if I didn't plead guilty I was going to the electric chair. I wish the hell I hadn't now because with what they had on me I believe the worst I'd gotten would have been life."

Under Tennessee law a life prisoner could be eligible for parole after 13 years 7 months, or even earlier if he earned maximum good behavior time. Under a 99-year sentence a prisoner must serve at least 30 years.

The Tennessean said a prison source further quoted Ray: "My attorney and my brother told me about six weeks ago that the best thing for me to do was to plead guilty if we could work out a deal to keep me out of the chair. They told me they thought this could be done."

$1.3 Million Damage Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A 1.35 million personal damage suit, which was to have come to trial in U.S. District Court Wednesday, has been settled out of court for an undisclosed sum.

The suit was the first in Arkansas to be filed under the provisions of maritime law.

The complaint was by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. White of Little Rock against the Arkansas Valley Dredging Co., a firm engaged in dredging operations on the Arkansas River.

It said that on June 14, 1968, White, while working as a seaman deckhand on a dredging barge on the Arkansas, was hit by a falling crane boom and totally disabled.

Apollo 9 Crew Brings Craft to a Successful Splashdown in Atlantic

Records and 'Firsts' by Apollo 9

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The 10-day flight of Apollo 9 created five space "firsts" and shattered three old records. The score:

— Heaviest satellite ever placed in orbit. Joined together the command ship, lunar module (LEM) and its protective compartment, and Saturn 5's upper stage weighed 150 tons. Old record: Apollo 8, which did not have to carry this 16-ton lunar module, and weighed 140 tons.

— First transfer by U.S. astronauts from one orbiting spaceship to another, from command ship to LEM. Two Soviet cosmonauts performed a similar transfer between Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5 last Jan. 16.

— First linkup of two manned U.S. spaceships. Soviet Union achieved feat with Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5.

— Longest flight with two docked manned spaceships, 54 hours 47 minutes. Old record: Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5, 4 hours 35 minutes.

First spacecraft flown that could not re-enter earth's atmosphere without burning up, the LEM.

— First time three men were exposed to the hazards of space simultaneously. While Russell L. Schweickart took a space walk, David R. Scott poked his head out the command ship door and James A. McDivitt, inside the LEM, had the hatch open. Two Soviet spacemen were exposed transferring between Soyuz 5 and Soyuz 4, but two inside the craft were in pressurized compartments at the time.

— First U.S. astronaut completely free of spaceship life-support equipment. Schweickart, during his space walk, was kept alive by an oxygen-filled backpack. Previous U.S. spacewalkers used life-support umbilical lines hooked to spacecraft systems.

27,600 Men to Be Drafted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today it will induct 27,600 men into the armed forces in May, the smallest number since January.

Ships Collide, All of Soviet Crew Lost

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — A Panamanian tanker and a Soviet fishing trawler collided in pre-dawn darkness off the North Carolina coast today, the Coast Guard said, and the Russian vessel was reported to have sunk with all hands lost.

Fifteen crewmen were believed to have been aboard. Lt. (j.g.) Howard E. Copeland, 5th Coast Guard District Information officer, said the collision occurred about 4 a.m. and was reported by the chief of a Soviet fishing fleet that has been sighted off the East Coast for the past month.

Because of the wash from its rotors, the helicopter had to make several passes before the frogmen could grab the birdcage-like hoist device to life the astronauts up one by one.

When one of the astronauts finally scrambled into the swing cage, Mission Control commented that "he's hanging on for dear life." One of the controllers said "It looks like a Mack Sennett comedy."

The helicopter deposited McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart on the Guadacanal deck at 12:49 p.m., just 48 minutes after they returned to earth.

Texarkana Fire Destroys a Building

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — A fire, which officials said apparently started in electrical wiring, swept through a two-story office building here Wednesday, destroying it.

Two firemen received minor injuries. The building, owned by Joe Davis of Rondo, Ark., is a few feet on the Arkansas side of the state line running down the middle of Texarkana.

Davis estimated the damage at $150,000. The building housed the office of Texarkana philanthropist J. K. Wadley, who endowed the Wadley Research Institute and Blood Bank in Dallas.

Wadley was on vacation in California at the time of the fire, officers said.

Resolution Backs Demands

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A resolution backing some of the demands of the Students for Equal Rights, a Negro student organization, was adopted by the Little Rock University Student Senate Wednesday.

Bill Echols, a student senator, said the resolution was adopted unanimously and forwarded to Dr. Carey V. Stabler, LRU president.

10-Day Flight Great Space Achievement

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer
ABOARD USS GUADALCANAL (AP) — Climaxing a 10-day space flight that qualified all Apollo hardware for voyages to the moon, the Apollo 9 astronauts parachuted to a pinpoint landing in the Atlantic Ocean today and were quickly hoisted aboard the recovery ship Guadalcanal.

Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart rode their durable spaceships to a splashdown in gentle seas within sight of this helicopter carrier stationed 300 miles north of Puerto Rico.

With television cameras relaying the dramatic splashdown and recovery to the United States and Europe, the astronauts splashed down just three miles from the Guadalcanal at 12:01 p.m. EST, ending a significant mission that advanced this nation a major step toward an historic landing of two men on the moon in July.

The pinpoint landing was a fitting climax to a flight that had been flawless from liftoff to touchdown.

A helicopter was overhead immediately and dropped Navy frogmen into the water. The swimmers established contact, reported the astronauts were in good shape and attached a flotation collar to the bobbing craft.

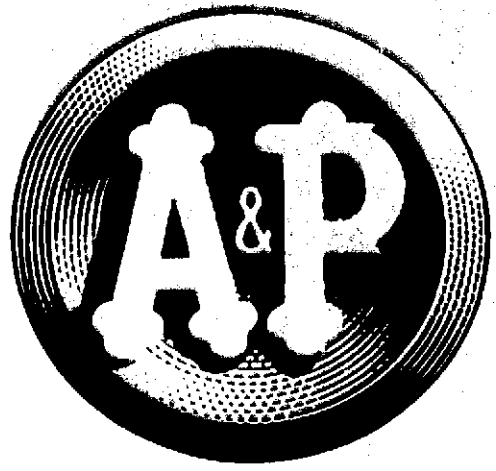

For the first time, TV viewers watched as the astronauts opened their hatch, stepped into life rafts, and were lifted up to a hovering chopper. The spacemen appeared in good spirits as they waved at the camera and smiled.

Because of the wash from its rotors, the helicopter had to make several passes before the frogmen could grab the birdcage-like hoist device to life the astronauts up one by one.

When one of the astronauts finally scrambled into the swing cage, Mission Control commented that "he's hanging on for dear life." One of the controllers said "It looks like a Mack Sennett comedy."

The helicopter deposited McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart on the Guadacanal deck at 12:49 p.m., just 48 minutes after they returned to earth.

Motorcycles Collide, One Killed

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Three motorcycles slammed together at more than 100 miles per hour Wednesday at Daytona International Speedway, catapulting a young rider to his death as his wife and small children watched.
 Wayne Bartz, 30, a Milwaukee truck salesman, thus became the first motorcycle rider to be killed during the speedways 10 year history.
 Bartz slammed into two other cycles on the first lap of a heat race to qualify drivers for a 76-mile novice cycle event Saturday. A track spokesman said he was going as fast as 135 miles per hour.
 The Milwaukee motorcyclist had a fractured skull, crushed chest and internal injuries. He died at the speedway hospital.

DATING ACROSS THE LINES, PRO AND CON
Dear Helen: The letter from "NOT PREJUDICED" proves again that some people would be less prejudiced if they had no eyesight. Her first two paragraphs were beautiful. They described parents who "understood" and approved of friendship between the races.
But then — it came down to the old nitty-gritty: Elders TALK equality, but "they don't want their daughter to date one."
I wish you had been more firm in your answer, Helen, though I could see you were on the girl's side, seeing color as unimportant if attitudes are right. You said, "No matter which way you decide, (to refuse the date and please her parents, or accept, perhaps get serious, and face a prejudiced society) someone is bound to suffer." That's true — NOW. But someone must make a start. Segregation must stop somewhere and where better than to mix socially?
It isn't the color, creed or religion that counts — it's the human being. — CAME AWAKE IN '68.
Dear Helen: Funny: Since "black" became "beautiful" the whites want to date us. Do they realize black parents abhor a mixed marriage as much or more than do white parents? We are proud of our race, and getting prouder. We don't want it blotted out with varying shades of brown. — PROUD OF BEING BLACK
Dear Helen: "NOT PREJUDICED" said she had known this boy of a different race for five years, and thought he was the project of the Southern Regional Council at Atlanta during the summer of 1963; he worked with the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department, and served as assistant director of the Arkansas Council on Human Relations for two years.

Upon graduating from A.M. & N. in 1958, he received a John May Whitney Fellowship for study at New York University and received a master's degree in education in 1961. He was graduated from Yale in 1964.
While at Yale, Walker founded the Southern Teaching program, an organization that places teachers and graduate students from universities throughout the nation in predominantly Negro schools.
